

Sexual Misconduct, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Violence and Stalking Resources

Any Community College of Vermont student, faculty, or staff member who has experienced sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking is urged to immediately seek help. Help includes seeking medical assistance, notifying law enforcement, seeking counseling or crisis response, and making a report to the College. CCV will provide assistance upon request.

CONFIDENTIAL RESOURCES AND SUPPORT

Victims and survivors are encouraged to make a prompt report to law enforcement and to the College. CCV does not offer counseling services; however, an individual may seek support and resources as designated below. Confidential community resources will not share information with the College, nor will speaking with a community resource trigger action by CCV unless there is imminent threat to self or others.

Review, Investigation, and Resolution

CCV will support any complainant or respondent in understanding how to navigate the complaint processes. In general, CCV, after consultation with a complainant, will follow the implementing Procedures for VSC Policy 311-A: Sexual Misconduct, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking. The College may refer the matter for investigation. At the conclusion of the investigation, disciplinary action may be sought using the Policy 311-A implementing Procedures.

CCV will not tolerate retaliation and will take immediate and responsive action to any report of retaliation or any violation of protective interim measures.
